The Farmers Insurance Restaurant package is designed specifically for restaurant insurance needs. Annual premiums are based upon total public square footage in the restaurant, not upon total gross receipts at the end of the year like many insurance companies charge. Farmers also offers services that help restaurant owners manage their business risks. Safety self-inspection checklists encourage a preventative approach to workplace hazards. Loss-control services are also available by request to help set up the restaurant operation and identify opportunities to reduce loss potential. Please contact Andrew Ethington at 281-461-8707 for more information.
