No One Knows More About The Energy Markets Than We Do

As a division of TFS Energy, a top wholesale energy brokerage firm with eight offices worldwide, over 300 energy specialists and in the energy business since 1986, Tradition Energy delivers unmatched, real-time knowledge of energy market conditions and deep, long-term relationships with more than 30 of the top energy suppliers in the U.S. Through our wholesale market expertise, we can assure you the most competitive energy pricing options available.

3 Easy Steps To Controlling Energy Costs

Controlling energy costs is simple, because you stay focused on your business while Tradition does the work. There are three easy steps in this process.

Step 1: Data Capture

Tradition Energy requests your energy usage history from the utility company who delivers electricity to your facility.

Step 2: Pricing Strategy

Our advisors conduct an in-depth review and analysis of your historical energy usage and then develop an energy pricing strategy to meet your facility's needs.

Step 3: Energy Price Proposal

Through a competitive procurement process, a new energy contract is secured. Your energy price proposal includes any estimated savings over your current rate, distribution charges, and your new projected energy budget. Tradition Energy oversees the account switch from your current energy supplier to your new one.

"Tradition served up an energy solution that's saving us $41,000 a year."

– Charles Boyd & Alan Rucker, Owners
